THE HISTORY OF THE CENTRAL TEXAS CONFERENCE

The great expanse of the “Northwest Texas Conference” began in 1866. Due to size, it was divided in 1910, part continuing as Northwest Texas Conference and part the newly named Central Texas Conference. This will be the first published history sweeping from 1866 to the present.

This book, the work of dozens of lay and clergy, will be between 300-500 pages and will include pictures and anecdotes. The cost is still approximate but will be reasonable for the size.

This is your opportunity to reserve a copy. No money is due at this time. By placing your reservation we can better estimate our publishing needs. If you have already placed an order, you need not do so again unless you would like additional copies.
