The Five Practices of Fruitful Congregations ... join the blog!

The Five Practices Forum on the conference website has run its course. There will be a preference for applicants between ages 18 to 30. Applicants are ready to discover, evaluate or affirm aptitudes or skills to lead youth/young adult team mission experiences in domestic or international settings. The estimated cost of $3,750 covers air and ground transportation from Chicago to China, within China, and back to Chicago, plus meals and accommodations, tour fees, tips, insurance, team supplies and host gifts. Limited scholarships are available from the Mission Discovery Program to expand racial/ethnic diversity among team participants. To request an application, write Lorna Jost (<mailto:umvim-ncj@brookings.net>).

Consider a Year-End Gift to Glen Lake Camp

While Thanksgiving and Advent mean an upswing in activities and giving in the local church, November and December are slow revenue months for Glen Lake Camp & Retreat Center. This creates a financial squeeze for the conference's camping and retreat facility. Fixed expenses like debt service and utilities cannot be ignored. "Neither can they be met in a timely fashion unless caring Methodists respond with some generous financial help," according to Diane Griffin, GLC&RC Board chair. She asks the thousands of beneficiaries (past and present) of Glen Lake to consider doing three things:

- Pray for this vital ministry of the CTC.
- Promote year-round utilization of both campuses (Glen Lake and Still Water Lodge) among the decision makers in your church as well as other organizations to which you belong.
- Make a generous contribution to Glen Lake before the end of the year.

So many wonderful things are happening at Glen Lake and Still Water that fulfill our purpose for them "to promote the three-fold spiritual, mental and physical development of young persons and adults as Christians." Every contribution, large or small, will help. You can send your contribution to Glen Lake Camp & Retreat Center, P.O. Box 928, Glen Rose, TX 76043.

Reminder: You Can Contribute to the Alignment Task Force

The Alignment Task Force wants your input on their work through a blog that Pat Stroman (member) and Mike Ramsdell (chair) will be posting after each meeting on the conference website (www.ctcumc.org). This is your opportunity to participate in making a difference in the future of the Conference and the ministries of our local churches. Your thoughts, ideas, suggestions are welcome!
