Developed after the 2004 south Asia tsunami, God, why? is a two-session small-group study to offer Christians a better understanding of God's activity in the midst of natural disasters. Feelings of grief and a loss of a spiritual compass are expected when natural disasters strike. We ask questions that we struggle to answer: Why would God allow such a terrible thing? Is this a sign of God's wrath?

This important, two-session resource, with accompanying study guide, helps people of faith through a myriad of emotions. Influential Christian leaders provide light for the journey to understand God's activity when natural disasters occur.
